

My portfolio demonstrates that I can build AI-powered applications from concept to implementation, creating user-centred and technically robust solutions. It is intended for an AI Product Manager hiring AI or Software Engineering interns who wants to see practical evidence of my abilities beyond a CV or transcript. My goal is for them to invite me for an interview so we can discuss my projects, technical decisions, and approach to solving real-world problems.

A CV and LinkedIn profile summarize my experience, but they cannot demonstrate how I approach problems, make technical and design decisions, or build complete AI-powered applications. My portfolio provides tangible evidence of these abilities and gives hiring managers a stronger basis for deciding whether to invite me for an interview.